Energy Medicine In Therapeutics And Human Performance
The novel opens with Aunt Polly scrounging the house in search of her nephew, Tom Sawyer. She finds him in the closet, discovers that his hands are covered with jam, and prepares to give him a whipping. Tom cries out theatrically, “Look behind you!” and when Aunt Polly turns, Tom escapes out the back. After Tom is gone, Aunt Polly reflects warily on Tom’s mischief and how she lets him get away with too much.

Tom comes home at supper time, and his aunt is surprised to find him. She asks about his adventures. During supper, Aunt Polly tells Tom that he will be skipped school that afternoon and rest tomorrow. Tom is angry and shows her that his collar is still wet from the rain. But Aunt Polly is satisfied. Tom has overcome the temptation to sin.

Tom goes out of the house into the streets of St. Petersburg. He sees a crowd of boys, and eventually, he joins them. Tom eventually realizes the enormity of the tasks ahead.

When he returns home in the evening, Tom finds Aunt Polly waiting for him. She notices his dirty clothes and resolves to make him work the next day, a Saturday, as punishment.

On Saturday morning, Aunt Polly sends Tom out to whitewash the fence. Jim passes by, and Tom asks to get him to do some of the whitewashing in return for a “white alley,” a kind of suitcase. Jim almost agrees, but Aunt Polly appears and chases him off, leaving Tom alone with his tasks.
